

Nicaragua—A Card from a Colonel of the Regular Army.

New-York, Tuesday, Dec. 2, 1856.

The undersigned, a Colonel in the army of Nicaragua, and a companion of General WALKER in his advent to that bleeding country, begs leave to say to the public, that the long article which appeared in the NEW-YORK TIMES on Tuesday morning, entitled "A Reply to the official letter of Don FERMIN FERRE, Minister from Nicaragua, and signed, "The Voice of Nicaragua," is essentially false in all its features and tendencies. It slanders, not only the President and Minister of that Republic, but every American associated with them in their patriotic purposes. Its web and woof are evidently furnished by treacherous and disgraced parties, and the work is done with the peculiar tact and with significant expletives which are common to the literature of mousing police reporters. Until scribblers dare sign their names to the slanders which they are pleased to fulminate against the men of Nicaragua, so that the injured may have legal or honorable remedy, in the name of Him, whose image we bear, let them hold their peace.

FRANK. ANDERSON,

Mansion House, Chambers-street.

This is all very well, Col. ANDERSON. But we doubt whether it will be considered very conclusive. What the public wants is not your assertion, nor that of any other man, whether he signs his name or not,—but facts. Our correspondent gave facts, sustaining them in some cases by documentary and in others by circumstantial evidence. If you can refute these facts, do so. If not, your protest and denunciation will only confirm the public in believing them true.
