

A FACT FOR BEECHER.—During the past fortnight, at the American Hotel, in Kansas City, the greatest outrage ever committed upon the "friends of freedom," was perpetrated, and we call upon the whole fraternity of shriekers to assist us in giving expression to our "burning indignation." In Missouri, in a hotel kept by a border ruffian, "Governor" Charles Robinson and General Samuel C. Pomeroy, the Free-State leaders, Col. H. T. Titus, and Major Jeff. Buford, of the "bloody ruffians," sat down at the same table, eat together in peace, and pledged each other's healths in the choicest Heidsieck.

Whether this result is to be attributed to the Presidential election, the pacific efforts of Gov. Geary, or the murderous propensities of the people of Missouri; we leave for Greeley or some other philosopher to determine. We simply record the fact.—Kansas City Enterprise.
