The Charleston Mercury.

17 January 1865, 2

Abraham Norrl, an old and respectable colored man, and known for many years by our merchants as a drayman, died, on the 13th instant, in the 70th year of his age.