LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

"Bringing the West Home." To the Editor of the Republican.

The refugees from the East are now returning to their homes. The returns of the relief agencies, and the reports of the United States commissioners, give us some idea of the hardships and dangers passed by our people on the march. The West Home is once more in the hands of our citizens, and the East is filled with the story of their sufferings.

T. J. W.

FROM NEW YORK.

New Year, July 5.

Mr. Editor:

The New Year's Day in Chicago is celebrated by the Fourth of July Festival. The city is illuminated with lights of every description, and the streets are thronged with people. The day closes with a grand firework display. The subscription for the festival was $100,000, and the money was raised by the sale of tickets. The festival was a great success.

Yours truly,

T. J. W.

FROM THE RURAL HOME SCANDAL.

Village Bedlam Through the New Knitwear.

The village of Balden, in the county of Limerick, is in a state of chaos. The villagers are said to be suffering from the effects of a new knitwear. The garment, which is said to be imported from America, is causing great disturbance in the village. The authorities are trying to trace the origin of the garment and to prevent its further distribution.

T. J. W.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

In London, July 5.

Mr. Editor:

The situation in the East is grave. The government is taking steps to prevent further outbreaks. The troops are being called out, and the police are being kept on the alert. The government is also trying to negotiate with the neighboring states to prevent further conflicts.

Yours truly,

T. J. W.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

LOCAL NOTICES.

The Parish Church of St. Mary's is to be opened on Sunday, July 5. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith. The church will be illuminated with candles, and the choir will sing a selection. The service will conclude with a prayer for the welfare of the church.

T. J. W.

THE WATERS.

The Probabilities for Watershed.

The results of the recent election have given the party of the watershed a majority. The party has gained ground in the rural districts, and the urban districts have returned a large majority for the party of the watershed.

T. J. W.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

The progress of the railway in Central and South America is rapid. The construction of the railway is being carried out with great energy. The railway will connect the principal cities of the region, and will facilitate trade and communication.

T. J. W.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

There was a heavy snowstorm on Sunday, July 5. The weather was very severe, and the roads were covered with ice. The snowstorm caused great inconvenience to the inhabitants of the city.

T. J. W.

THE REVIEW.

In July, the Review will publish a special number on the subject of rural life in America. The number will be devoted to the life of the farmer and the rural community. The Review will also publish a special number on the subject of the American Indian.

T. J. W.