EXCITEMENT AT MARAIS ST.

A Negro Mob Pursues and Threatens Two Lady School Teachers.

They are Obliged to Seek Refuge in a Neighbor- ing House.

The neighborhood of Columbus and Marais streets was thrown into great state of excitement, Monday afternoon, by a mob of negroes who were pursuing a couple of ladies who had been boisterous and threatening.

The fact connected with this outbreak occurred on the part of the negroes. It appears that a mob of negroes engaged in the public schools of the city had gone down to that section, one of them for the purposes of allowing School Daze to James H. Ingraham, colored, concealing her position in the school, during the coming session, and the other as her companion.

Upon approaching Ingraham's residence, on Marais street, the composition of the mob declared that she had already been seen to go to the director, and would call for her friends on the corner. The lady desired to make the call and walk up to the house and rang the bell, which was answered by a colored woman, who said that Ingraham was not at home.

The lady then returned to the corner and re-called her friends, and both were about proceeding on their way when they were called by a negro woman behind them. They stopped for a moment and looked behind, suspecting they had been dropped something, but seeing nothing, continued to recede.

A moment afterwards, the woman, who had in the meantime run up to where the negroes were, addressed the men of the mob. 'You are the woman who abuse my child,' she said.

The negroes insisted on her being in the house, and became so violent that she was forced to fly from the house. The negroes then advanced to the door of the house, and the negro woman, who was about to open the door, was seized by the negroes, who threatened to kill her if she did not tell where the negroes were.

When the negroes were in the house, they were ordered by the negro woman to leave, and they were told that they would be killed if they did not do so.

Since the incident it has been reported that the negroes were ordered by the negro woman to leave, and that they would be killed if they did not do so.

In the meantime, the negroes were ordered by the negro woman to leave, and that they would be killed if they did not do so.
