
A BLACK MAN'S FUNERAL.—Announcement was made some days ago of the death at Richmond, Va., of Andrew Marshall, a colored man, who had been a Baptist preacher in Savannah, Ga., for forty years. He was about 100 years of age when he died. His remains were taken to Savannah, where he had one of the most imposing funerals ever witnessed in that city. The Rev. Mr. Rambant officiated. A benevolent society, a temperance society, fifty carriages and a long procession of pedestrians, including white and colored, followed his remains to the grave.
