

 A CONCRETE MAN.—P. B. RANDOLPH, one of those curiosities so rare in the world, a "Concrete Man," will speak as the "spirit shall move him" at CHAPIN'S Hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings. We have heard much of this extraordinary man East. His grandfather was a full-blooded Moor, and his grandmother a Castilian. He has a strong mixture of the Indian and Anglo Saxon by his immediate progenitors. He is Clairvoyant to an astonishing degree, and speaks in the abnormal state as no man in his natural condition can speak. We heard him "thunder" at Tremont Hall on Sunday last. Go and hear him. He challenges the Philosophers and Divines to put any questions to him they please. Their answers will be given on the spot.
